VOLUME VIII. MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL. NEW SERIES.

Milwaukee Daily Sentinel.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 6, 1852.

Rufus King, Wm. H. Watson & John. S. Fillmore PROPRIETORS.

UNDER THE NAME AND FIRM OF

RUFUS KING & CO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

From Madison.

EDITORIAL CORRESTONDENCE OF THE SENTINEL.

Madison, March 3, 1852.

Among the petitions this morning, were 299 names for the Maine law, and 329 against. There was also a copy of the proceedings of a public meeting of the citizens of Portage, protesting against the passage of the law introduced for the progress of the Improvement.

The Hungarian resolutions were again on the tapis, and were finally disposed of, after consuming nearly all the morning. Much time was occupied in discussion of the points of order, as to the reconsideration of the previous question, when members found themselves compelled to submit to a practical test of their sympathy with the Hungarian cause, by giving up one day's pay.

The House sustained the Speaker in his decision that the previous question could not be reconsidered and after much time had been occupied, the vote was taken, the following members being all that were ready to yield the per diem:—Barlow, Botkin, Burnham, Cain, Catton, Cooper, Donaldson, Earnest, Giles, Johnson, Kinney, Lewis, Mott, Phelps, Powers, Richardson, Skinner, Worthington, Shafter—Total 19—14 whigs, 3 regular democrats, and 3 free soilers. These, then, may be set down as those of the Assembly who are really for practical aid—I do not say that they are all. Here follow the resolutions as passed, divided limb from limb, under the previous question; very few of the members, as they now say, having any idea that they were voting the very strongest kind of intervention doctrine:—

Resolved, &c. That, in the name and on behalf of the people of the State we declare—

That they regard with admiration and sympathy the efforts of the people, and the patriotic exiles of Hungary to restore to their country its acknowledged rights, and establish free constitutions for themselves.

That the act of Russia, in sending an organized army into Hungarian territory to make war upon the inhabitants, extinguish their nationality, and compel their submission to an invading power, was an atrocious violation of the law of nations, and deserves the reprobation of the world.

That each individual nation possesses for itself the exclusive right and sole power to regulate and dispose of its internal concerns, without the intervention or interference of any foreign power; and that any such intervention constitutes an infraction of the law of nations, and authorizes and justifies the interposition, of any, or all other governments or powers to prevent such intervention, and to restore the rights violated by such infraction of the law of nations.

And that the U. S., interested as a sovereign nation in requiring the observance of that law and preserving it inviolable, ought officially to denounce its violation and to express their disapproval of its wanton defiance by Russia.

Such is the fierce doctrine put forth by a legislative body which squirms at a proposition to give one day's pay to help Hungary! Is it not vox et preterea nihil? mere brutum fulmen—all gammon?

The Bank bill coming up in Committee in the afternoon, the 4th section passed through without attention. The 5th section, providing for the kind of securities to be deposited with the Comptroller, coming up, Dr. Hoyt moved to amend by taking railroad bonds also as securities—the same to be the first lien upon the road, and not to exceed $7000 per mile. After considerable discussion the idea was negatived by a large majority. The next proposition was by Mr. Lewis, to confine the State stocks to those of Wisconsin. This was also negatived by a large vote. Next, Mr. Van Nostrand moved to include real estate mortgages. He advocated the principle with much earnestness, as one which his constituents desired, though he did not seem to favor it himself. Mr. Barber moved to include Kossuth and Cuban bonds, but withdrew it. The real estate project failed. Mr. Cate now moved that the issue of notes by the Comptroller be limited to three-fourths of the securities—voted down by a very decisive majority.

Mr. Utley moved to insert "corn stalks (stocks.)" He explained that gentlemen seemed to be trying to push the most absurd amendments possible, and he thought "he had 'em now." The House thought so too, by the roar of laughter with which they received the proposition.

Mr. Johnson moved to add a proviso that any legislature hereafter may take bonds of any corporation in the State as securities. He thought that if this provision is not, inserted, such securities cannot be taken without submitting the question to the people. The proposition was lost.—Then followed Mr. McKee with a proviso making stockholders individually liable, to the amount of their stock. Mr. Sholes opposed this, inasmuch as it was decided to make U. S. and State stocks the basis of banking, and the security proposed in the bill is ample in his opinion. Other members discussed the question, and the amendment, was lost by a small majority. The committee rose at this point, and reported progress.

Before adjourning, the claim of General Smith to a balance as assistant Clerk in the Senate last year, was brought up. The substance of the claim seems to be this; an arrangement or understanding was made at the opening of the session that the Chief Clerk should appoint Mr. Smith, in case a certain other person, not present, should not accept. There was no service for Mr. Smith to do for some time, and his appointment was not made till the 22d of January, the other person contemplated refusing to accept. Mr. Smith now claims payment from the beginning of the session. The bill was laid on the table till the morning.

The Senate Committee, Messrs. Pinckney, Stewart, Prentice and Bennett, reported this morning on that part of the Governor's Message relative to the Fugitive Slave Law. They condemn it as a law unworthy of a free and enlightened people. The report is an able one, and 500 copies are ordered printed.

On behalf of a good portion of the Milwaukeans here present, I am glad to be able to congratulate our city on the election of Col. Crocker for Mayor. No better man could, by any possibility, have been selected to put the wheels of the new government in operation. So with the other officers; though some good men are beaten in the contest, yet many excellent ones are elected, and the new Council will prove to be, if the past reputation and present standing of the men are considered anything, one of the very best the city has ever had. W. H. W.

LET THOSE LAUGH WHO WIN.—The Sentinel sneers at the report of the success of Robert J. Walker in negotiating the Rail Road loans, and the good prospects of the Valley Road. That sneer will shortly change to a howl.—Fond du Lac Journal.

The Journal utterly misrepresents the Sentinel. We have indulged in no "sneers," either at Mr. WALKER'S reported "success," or at "the good prospects of the Valley Road." We sincerely wish that these "prospects" were better than they are. As to the "report" the Journal speaks of, we copied it, as published in that print, merely adding the expression of our hope that Mr. WALKER would this time hold on to the Capitalists he had caught. Considering the number of times these same slippery gentlemen, after being fairly hooked by Mr. WALKER, have managed to escape from his clutches, we think this hope not wholly superfluous. However, if it offends our Fond du Lac contemporary, we will take it all back and give the report without any "hope" of its truth.

☞ The Snow lies a foot deep at Fond du Lac, and about six inches deep at Beloit. Hereabouts it fell to the depth of 15 or 18 inches, but is wasting fast under the mild weather and moist atmosphere.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE AT AUCTION.—There will be an auction sale of Household Furniture at Mr. RUSSELL'S New York Auction Store, this morning at 10 o'clock. The sale is well worth the attention of housekeepers.

Atty General vs. Governor.

As might easily have been foreseen, the Governor finds himself wholly unsupported in his vetoes of the Railroad bills. The press generally have disapproved, and now the Attorney General gives an adverse opinion—claiming that nothing in these bills contravened the constitution. It now remains to be seen what the Legislature will do in the matter. To vindicate their action and motives, it is due them that the bills should be passed by the constitutional majority.—Fond du Lac Journal.

No other paper has the news. In this quarter of the State, the popular belief as to the course of the press, the opinion of the Attorney General and the probable action of the Legislature differs widely from that which appears to prevail at Fond du Lac. As to "the press generally," the Beloit Journal thus testifies:—

The Governor's veto of the R. R. U. V. R. R. seems to be almost unanimously supported by the press of the State. We have not noticed, as yet, any papers out of Janesville that object to it, except the Madison Democrat. It is possible that the Watertown Register, and perhaps the Fond du Lac papers, have expressed themselves otherwise, for we have not noticed; but the Watertown Chronicle, a paper as much in the interest of the road as any other, supports the Governor.

How much weight the opinion of the Attorney General had upon the Legislature may be inferred from the fact that the vetoed bills have been quietly dropped by their friends, and others introduced, avoiding the Governor's constitutional objections. We rather think these facts conclusive as to the propriety of Gov. FARWELL'S course in the premises.

POST OFFICE REMOVAL.

Messrs. Editors: —

I am aware that there are many reasons why the Post Office should not be removed, especially in the opinion of the few business men on Wisconsin St.; but there are many more, why it should be. Most of those who oppose the removal, would, for the same reason, object to its being changed back again, after it had been in Prentiss' Block, for several years—they would consider the idea "preposterous, of moving the Office from the main business street, up one of the side streets, and that they would be obliged to go to the office and back again to Water Street to make their purchases, when they could do their business, buy their groceries, and provisions, their wood, &c., and have the Post Office and all on one street.

Those who oppose the removal do not consider the nine out of ten of the letters received at the Post Office, are for residents North of Mason-st., nor do they consider that any one has been deprived of their rights for the many years that the Office has been in its present location. There are at least 2000 more residents North of Mason-st., than there are South of it, which alone would be sufficient cause for removal. Take off your "pecuniary interest" specs, Wisconsin-st. gents and you would see the matter in a very different light. Yours, &c. FIRST WARD.

MILWAUKEE, March 6th.

For the Sentinel.

The Post Office Removal.

The Post Office matter has aroused an "Old Citizen," and may arouse some new ones, for aught I know. Lest there should be any alarm as to the quality and price of Molasses Candy, I pledge myself that as good an article as was ever offered in Wisconsin, may be had on Mason street, and shall be sold as usual (notwithstanding the additional travel there) at "Two Sticks for a cent apiece." EMERY.

LOCATION OF THE STATE PRISON.—The majority of the Joint Select Committee, appointed to visit the State Prison at Waupun and report as to its condition, location, &c., have submitted a report to the Legislature, sustaining the present location, testifying to the good condition of the prison and the judicious expenditure of the moneys appropriated to its support, and recommending an election of Prison Commissioners by the Legislature. The minority of the Committee concur in these general conclusions, but dissent as to the propriety of the location.

We trust that the Legislature will adopt the majority report with as little delay, or debate as may be, and thus put an effectual stopper upon all further discussions, or agitation about the removal of the State Prison. We will say ditto as to the removal of the Capital. Let well alone.

☞ The Wisconsin urges upon the Legislature an adjournment on the 20th of March. We trust the Legislature will try to do its work up well, if it remains in session until the 20th of December next. We have seen enough of the cost of short sessions, made short for the sake of popularity. We do not want them longer than can be helped. but there is often more cost in great haste than in great deliberation.—Racine Advocate.

Sensible advice, which we hope the Legislature will heed. Hasty Legislation costs the People more pounds than short sessions save them pence.

BOARD OF SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS.—An adjourned meeting of the Board of School Commissioners will be held this evening at 7 o'clock, at the office of HAVEN POWERS, in the Fourth Ward. The punctual attendance of the Members is particularly requested.

MILWAUKEE GAS AND WATER WORKS.—The contractors, Messrs. LOCKWOOD and GLIDDEN of Cincinnati, will be here early in April, to locate the Water Works, and perfecting their arrangements for carrying forward both enterprises vigorously. The pipes for Gas and Water will be laid down at the same time. Teams are now engaged in hauling stone and other materials, for the construction of the Gas Works at the corner of Jefferson and Menomonee Streets, and Messrs. WALTON & Co., of the Menomonee Foundry, are casting the iron caps, sills, pillars &c., required for the edifice. They have also, as we have heretofore stated, the contract for building the two large Steam Engines which will be required for the Water Works.

RADCLIFFE'S TRIAL.—This trial, which has occupied so much space in our columns for a fortnight past, draws to a close. The testimony is nearly all in, and will be finished to-day. The summing up by Messrs. ARNOLD and SMITH, for the Defence and Messrs. RYAN and BUTLER, for the People, will probably occupy two days. The interest of the public in the case, continues unabated.

BOARD OF SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS.

THURSDAY, March 4.

The Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present.—Messrs. King, Church, McManman, McGarry, Powers, Wait, Zander—7.

Absent.—Messrs. Fratney, Hathaway, Huebschmann, Greenleaf, Crocker, Holton, Rogers, Larkin. —8.

There being no quorum present,

On motion, Board adjourned till Saturday (this) evening, at 7 o'clock.

HAVEN POWERS,
Secretary.

CHARTER ELECTIONS.—The City of Detroit has gone democratic, by a large majority. In the city of Buffalo, the whigs have swept the field, electing nearly all their candidates by decisive votes. Chicago re-elects her present popular Mayor, GURNEE by a handsome majority, over three competitors.

BUFFALO CHARTER ELECTION.—Hiram Barton, Whig Mayor, elected by 150 majority: Whig Justice of peace, and five out of six Whig Aldermen also elected; J. C. Harrison is elected Alderman of the Fourth Ward by 31 majority. The Ward is usually Democratic.

THE OLD AND NEW BOARDS.—The present Board of Aldermen hold one more meeting this afternoon, to close up their business. The report of the Finance Committee, as to orders issued and cancelled, shows a much more favorable condition of things than many anticipated.

The new City Administration takes possession on Tuesday.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—We learn that some eight or ten days ago, a German in the town of Belgium was instantly killed by the falling of a barn door upon him.—Washington Co. Bladt.

☞ To-day (Tuesday,) Lake Michigan is covered, as far as the eye can reach, with a vast field of ice. We have never seen so large a body of ice on the lake before.—Washington Co, Blade

From the Galena Gazette.

Central Wisconsin.

Adams is the county seat of Sauk, lying in the valley that opens between the Wisconsin and Baraboo rivers, situated upon and near the latter. In the hazy distance mound the town, south and west, appear the dark blue bluffs of the Baraboo, clothed with dense forests of oak and maple, interspersed here and there by the stately pine, with its ever-green foliage. At the base of the bluffs, (or more properly mountains) and by surrounding the village, runs the now bold, rapid stream, affording an inexhaustible water power, easily made available to run any number of mills. Back of the village, rising gradually, are seen graceful sloping hills, and oak openings. Enclosed within this amphitheater, lies this bustling, goahead, New England village, with its 1500 inhabitants. Neat, tasteful cottages, stately stores; a large public square in the center, filled with trees of Nature's planting; good schools; an orderly, enterprising population, with energy stamped upon every face; these make up the village of Adams. It has four, or five saw mills, a good grist mill, a sturdy row of stores in erection, some 15 to 20 stores, three or four public houses, an abundance of hard lumber near, fine quarries of rock, and is surrounded by a fertile, healthy country, which is fast filling up. It has around it, all the elements necessary to make a thriving, populous, inland town. The great drawback to this, as well as all the settlements bordering upon the Wisconsin, is the want of an outlet—some easy and cheap way of getting their surplus products to market.

Prairie Du Sac is divided into Upper and Lower, containing some 1,000 or 1,500 inhabitants. It is quite an important point, situated upon a high rolling prairie, from two to eight miles back, and some ten miles long. A bridge across the Wisconsin has just been completed, which adds very much to the business of the Upper town.—Back of it, skirting the whole prairie, are the Baraboo Bluffs, which, from their rugged nature, present a serious obstacle to the growth of the place; however, by expending a large amount in improving the roads, this difficulty can be overcome.

Lodi, nine miles East of the Wisconsin from Prairie du Sac, is a busy, bustling, yankee village, nestling among the hills, surrounded on all sides by beautiful sloping bluffs, Spring Creek, crashing and foaming through its center—in its course putting in motion long rows of saw mills and grist mills—a dram shop to be found within its precincts, or a place where spirituous liquor can be obtained. Instead of doggeries they have good schools, and a very respectable debating club, where the affairs of the nation are discussed. Its outlet to the Wisconsin, is down the valley of Spring Creek to Watson's Ferry, six miles. The water power, with the fertile country surrounding it, will in time, make it quite an important point.

Baraboo is situated on the Baraboo River, eighteen miles above Prairie Du Sac, on the East bank of the river, is beginning to be a place of considerable business, commanding, as a shipping point, quite a scope of rich farming country.

Portage City, with a growth of only two years, numbering some 1,500 inhabitants, built up thus suddenly, in part upon faith in the Fox River Improvement, connecting the lakes with our Father of Waters," by a Canal now finished, joining the sluggish Fox with the uncertain and turbulent Wisconsin, an union not much relished by the stately Wisconsin, which last season burst from its accustomed bounds, filling up the Canal with its own sand, and deluging the whole country, as if determined to drive back this attempt of the Lakes to mingle with the Mississippi. It is feared by many that this improvement, for the present, at least, will prove of little value to this portion of the State. When it is completed to Green Bay it must become a very important outlet to this section of the Country, and Portage City will then become a large flourishing place. South of it, and between the Fox and Wisconsin, is an extensive marsh; on this they are building a plank road some ten miles in length. The greater part of it is graded ready for the plank.

Portage City, Feb. 23, 1852.

FIRE AT LAMARTINE.—On Sunday morning last, about 1 o'clock, the store of Peter V. Sang was discovered to be on fire on the lower floor. The back part of the second story of the building was occupied by Cyrus E. Stow, as a dwelling, and from which only two beds were saved—everything else in the building was consumed. The loss has been estimated at $4,000. Insurance on goods, Orleans company, $2,500; on house and household furniture $872, Protection Company, Rome.—Fond du Lac Journal.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Trial of Wm. Ratcliffe for the Murder of David Ross.

BEFORE JUDGE HUBBELL.

District Attorney Butler and E. G. Ryan for the State.

J. E. Arnold and A. D. Smith for Prisoner.

Friday morning, March 5.

Robert Bonham, next witness for defense, testified as follows: Recollects hearing of death of Ross; was at defendant's house on Monday afternoon; was sent over by Mr. White; saw entrails of chickens about the premises; saw them in the privy.

William Evans, recalled for defense, testified as follows: In May last kept Commercial Hotel on Water street; recollect the Sunday night of murder; saw Joe Hagen that night; he was in my bar-room; he came at 5 o'clock and staid till 9; he was on the premises all the time; witness's clock is generally pretty fast; Joe was pretty well drunk; he had on a blue dress coat; not a frock coat; didn't notice which way he went when he left; when he got up to leave he didn't say where he was going.

Cross Examination. Thinks he saw Joe leave; he was alone; there was nobody but witness and him in the bar-room when he left; he came early in afternoon, before tea; took tea pretty early in the afternoon; time was about a quarter of an hour faster than Jewellers' time; doesn't recollect big Joe's wearing a big rough blue overcoat in those days; has never seen him wear such a coat to his knowledge; didn't see him on day of arrest; never stated to any body that Joe came to his house after tea on night of the murder; might have sworn to it before Grand Jury but don't recollect; had it in memory that we went into barn a little before tea to doctor a dog of witness'; had tea from ¼ past 5 to 6; never stated to any body that Joe Hagen came to his house at 7 o'clock on that night; never stated it to Grand Jury to his knowledge; Joe was not there till half past 9 or 10; thinks he didn't swear before Grand Jury that he was there till that time; is sure that it was Sunday night; the next morning witness and Joe Hagen went to see Ross; witness met Joe on the way; he had on the same coat that he has now: (Joe here presented himself for inspection) was in the habit of seeing him often; for was about that time in the habit of being at witness's house as near as he could judge once or twice a day: Joe was the dog doctor; when they went out to see dog he was not drunk at the time; he took his medical fee in drink afterwards; don't think he went out and was gone 15 minutes or more at any time during the evening or during the afternoon; don't think he stated to Grand Jury that Joe went out in the evening but in his opinion was not gone long enough to go to the place of murder and back.

James Warren, recalled for defense, testified as follows: took some papers out of Ross' pocket; don't know what the papers were, and can't say what pocket he took them from; thinks it was coat pocket but can't say whether it was an inside or outside pocket. Became to witness with a note to know what he should do with it, and how he should make the money on it: it was a note against Wigler of Sheboygan; the prisoner; he conferred with witness twice before he got the money on note; charged Ross a fee and he paid it; doesn't know or any suit commenced on note; recollects of witness Farman speaking to him about meeting two men on Walker's Point; it was a few days before this trial commenced; he spoke of Mr. Radcliff and Mr. Ross; of seeing them together when he went to church: he sa'd they were crossing over to corner of Reed and Oregon sts. and that they appeared to be pretty well slewed. In previous conversations he has never heard him mention that fact before; didn't know that he knew anything about it.

Cross Examination.—This was in Mygatt's Store; in same conversation he spoke of seeing them at Bently's: had never heard him say before that he had seen them at Bentlys': recollect no distinct conversation with Farman before about this matter; there was a connection between the mention of their locking arms and of their being stewed; thinks there was some leering on the subject: didn't know how long the conversation with Farman continued; the fact of their being drunk or stewed was not much dwelt upon in the conversation.

Direct Examination resumed.—Cant say that he knows of the matter of Ross' death being talked over in Firmans presence before.

Ellen Evans, called by defense, testified as follows: Knows Joe Hagan; recollects hearing of Ross' death; saw Hagan on that Sunday; he was in our house; first saw him about tea time; he passed through dining room into the bar-room; saw him in the bar-room afterwards; witness went to church that evening; can't tell whether he was there when she returned or not.

Cross examination.—Took tea about 6; he was there before tea; was there when she went to church; went to church about 7 o'clock.

Dr. Whitney, next witness for defense, testified as follows: Was present when Dr. Orton testified; heard his discription of the injuries on Ross' head; saw the instrument; the skull bone is thinner on the temple than at any other point: is not any more brittle than back part of head; it is more easily broken, altho' it has the protection of the temporal muscle which the back part of head has not: if a blow was given on a head covered by a hat with such an instrument as shown here, and with a velocity to drive the skull into the head, the fracture would be communicated line, cracking the bone into several pieces; if the blow was upon the temple, and a forcible one, it would break it into small pieces; the fracture described witness thinks could have been made without making a hole in the hat; but it would depend somewhat upon the stiffness of the hat whether a piece of it would be also carried into the brain; couldn't say that so violent a blow with such an instrument would have made a longer wound; heard Dr. Garners' testimony as to the spots on vest; it would require more knowledge of animal chemistry than witness has, to testify as to any other tests for blood than those commonly used; the best modern authorities question some of the chemical agents used by Dr. Garner; a boiling temperature is considered best as it would coagulate the albumen of the blood, and after the albumen is dissolved the coloring matter would be suspended; don't know whether the coloring matter when precipitated by galls would be changed or not; the experiment detailed in this case witness thinks the most satisfactory test fulton: thinks an artificial composition might be made that would produce any one of the results detailed, but doesn't think there is any that would produce the same reaction in all the tests; the satin would prevent the detection of the fibrine; to distinguish between murder and blood, there must be some agent that would act on the one and not on the other; is not enough acquainted with practical chemistry to testify, with any confidence, as to the sufficiency of Dr. Garner's test: couldn't say how long a man would live with such wounds as were inflicted in this case; the lower animals have lived a day or more with most of their brains out; have known persons to live with injuries to the brain, long enough to stump one; ought to have died long before they did.

Cross Examination.—Such an instrument as the one in Court, if applied with the edge, would leave a sharp cut on the front of wound; should think, from Dr. Garner's test, that it is highly probable that the spots on the vest were blood; thinks they were blood.

Direct examination. A hammer with a square face and edge would produce a similar cut if applied in the same way.

Cross examination. Don't know of any composition in ordinary use that would be likely to produce the same results testified to by Dr. Garner.

(From the reporter's inexperience in chemical and medical matters, the report of the last witness's testimony is not as complete as could be desired. The main features of it, however, he believes are detailed.)

Defense closed.

PROSECUTION RESUMED.

Mrs. Ann Brandt, witness for prosecution, testified as follows: Early in May last resided on Ferry street, on Walker's Point; lived over her husband's store; knows Curtis Farman; he was then employed in the store; he boarded with us; recollects hearing of death of Ross on Monday morning after it occurred: saw Curtis Farman on that morning at her house; we were together engaged in conversation in relation to death of Ross.

(Mr. Ryan then asked witness if on that conversation in reference to murder he spoke of seeing any persons together the evening before and if so whom and when and where. Mr. Arnold objected to the testimony on the ground that it was hearsay and the defense had not rendered it competent by any evidence they had offered. The Court ruled it out for the present in order to look at authorities.)

Witness recollects that Sunday evening don't think Farman was at our house after tea: he was there at tea; don't know where he went after tea: he had been to church in the forenoon; didn't see him go but he said he went: thinks in the afternoon he was away till 2 o'clock: we took tea between 3 and 4 o'clock; he went out after tea in the course of half an hour; didn't see him again until Monday morning, although he stayed at our house that night; should think he was not in the store on that evening; her husband is at home now.

Cross examination. Farman got home that night between 10 and 11 o'clock, after we had retired.

Henry Kavanah, next witness, testified; knows Curtis Farman: know David Ross; recollect hearing of his death; heard of it the morning after; recollect seeing him the day before; Farman was with me when we saw him; it was at Bently's Saloon about half past six in the afternoon; went to church that night; went to the church in Walker's block; Presbyterian church; saw Farman that evening; it was on corner of Water and Ferry streets; thinks he (witness) met him and walked up to church with him. Witness was going to church at that time; it was about church going time; recollects conversing with Farman at that time; recollect being with him at the corner where the church was; couldn't say whether church had commenced or not; thinks church went in at ¼ of 8.

Cross examination.—Witness can't be positive that he met Farman on the corner; we went to the Saloon together; Ross came into Saloon afterwards; Radcliff was with him; they drank; one beer, and the other drank brandy; can't say at whose invitation; they remained about 5 minutes; were not talking about anything in particular; can't say where they went after they went out; thinks they went across the bridge; don't remember whether they shut the door or not; thinks Mr. Bently was in the house when they arrived, but can't recollect whether he was in bar-room or not; can't say who served them at the bar; can't say whether any body else came in while they were there; thinks Bently went away; has heard him say lately where he went; church broke up about 9 o'clock on that night; has no means of fixing the time within a few minutes; had not seen defendant and Ross together on that day; had seen defendant coming down Oregon Street about 5 o'clock; he was alone; he came to Reed street, and then went north; don't know where he went; Mr. Steel preached that night; cannot fix the time church commenced, it was dark or near dark, when they went in; can't recollect: don't remember seeing Mrs. Smith at church, or of seeing her on his way home; might have seen her; might and might not have seen men going into Sourteig's grocery: don't recollect how long it was before witness and Farman parted, or whether they went out together.

Margaret Lawrence, next witness, testified: Is the wife of Philip Lawrence; in May last we lived in 3d ward in the Fireman's Saloon; know the prisoner; recollects hearing of the death of Ross; heard of it on Monday morning after; recollect seeing the prisoner on the afternoon of Friday before; saw him in our own house; he had on a white bosomed shirt; can't describe the rest of his clothing; he was there about an hour.

Cross-examination. Saw the defendant in the bar-room: he was talking with Mr. Ross; nobody but Ross was with him; there were no others in the room while they were there; there was nobody but witness tending bar; couldn't say how often they drank; they had 2 shillings worth in drink and cigars; don't remember whether we had a clock or not; can't tell what time it was when they came in or went out; don't recollect what liquor they drank: don't recollect how she was dressed; remembers that defendant had on a black satin vest, but doesn't remember what coat or pantaloons he wore; can't tell how her husband was dressed on that day; he was home: don't recollect what kind of pantaloons or coat: Ross wore: can't say whether he wore a hat or not; he had on a white shirt; don't know that there is more addicted to noticing men's shirts than their other garments, but recollects noticing his shirt; Ross had on a mourning veed; the bosom of defendant's shirt appeared to be clean; can't tell whether collar was turned over or not, or how it appeared; could not tell the style of his shirt bosom: didn't notice how it was made; had seen Ross twice before this, and had seen defendant twice in the house: knew Ross by name; thinks she spoke of defendant's shirt after the death of Ross; couldn't tell what time; her husband told her yesterday that she would be asked whether defendant had on a white shirt or not: can't remember that she spoke to her husband before yesterday about defendant's shirt; thinks she had thought of defendants's having a white shirt on before; witness waited on Radcliff and Ross on the Friday afternoon they were there.

Court here adj'd.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Wm. Pool, a witness called by defence, testified as follows:—Resides in the 3d Ward; resided in Huron street last May, nearly opposite Milwaukee House; recollects hearing of the death of Ross; it was on Sunday night; heard of it on Monday following; on Sunday night was at Tansley's about 9 o'clock; knows Joe Hagne; saw him Sunday night at Tansley's, about 9 o'clock; he was there when witness went in; he was sitting on a table; remained there 5 minutes; left him there when he went out. Joe was drunk; witness didn't drink; didn't see any one else there but Mrs. Tansley; went for a bottle of gin, and Mrs. Tansley gave it to witness; Joe asked him if he would stand treat, and he gave him the bottle, and Joe took a drink; witness then left; don't remember seeing the defendant any where on Sunday; knew Ross only by sight; can't say where he last saw him; don't remember what coat Joe had on.

Cross Examination—has known pi neer a week or 15 months; Joe was pretty drunk that night; he didn't take much out of the bottle of gin; didn't give him the gin to make him sober; is sure he has seen Joe sober; can't say as to whether he was drunker than common or not; witness noticed when he went home that it was not ten o'clock: didn't see any one else at Mrs. Tansley's; Mrs. Tansley came out of the back sitting room; witness called her; can't say whether she saw her or not before he called her; knocked on the counter; didn't look into the back room at all; Joe was a yard or two from the bar on a table; recollects that it was that particular Sunday, because he heard of Ross' death and of Joe's arrest a short time after.

Joe could not talk or walk well that night; thinks he talked in a drunken voice; Mrs. Tansley was there; don't know how long he was at home before he went to bed: it might have been half an hour; smoked a pipe and drank some of the gin after he got home; took one glass of gin and water; would like to clock up when he went to bed, and knows from that, that it was 10 o'clock.

(The Cross Examination of Mrs. Lawrence was here resumed.) Has resided here about two years and a half dived first on the marsh; next to the street; we remained there from Spring to Fall; we removed to market Street; can't tell how long we lived there; we removed from there to Huron Street, opposite the United States Hotel: we resided there in Mr. Thwaite' house; we removed from there last Spring about a year ago, to our present residence; her husband was a sailor when they lived on the marsh; when we lived in Market street he didn't do anything; we kept Saloon when we lived opposite the States; we didn't keep any boarders at that time; we kept some last summer where we now live; has been married six years; was married in Kingston Canada; married by a Catholic Priest by the name of Dollard; cant remember the boarders we had last summer.

Direct Examination Resumed.—The boarders we kept were sailors.

Cross Examination Resumed.—Did their washing; don't remember whether they had any striped shirts or not; thinks one of them had; might sometimes notice the shirt of a stranger when she wouldn't that of a boarder.

Mr. Sourtein, recalled for prosecution, testified as follows:—Was examined before Grand Jury as a witness in this case; thinks he swore before Grand Jury that his grocery was open until about 9 o'clock; his memory on that subject ought to be fresher then than it is now; witness is pretty forgetful: thinks he swore that there might have been two or three persons in his store, and he not notice it; was examined before Grand Jury week before Ross' death; couldn't now tell for certain whether grocery was open or not; was asked about the same questions he is asked now, before the Grand Jury; don't remember whether boy was there that night or not; was not at the inquest at Squire Parson's.

Cross Examination.—When witness heard of Ross' murder he didn't know that it was Ross; if Ross had been in his store, he thinks he would have thought of it when he heard that it was him who was murdered; there were several persons in the store that evening, but don't remember who they were.

Edward Bulton, re-called for prosecution, testified:—Radcliffe was at witness's house on the Friday before murder; thinks he had on a white bosomed shirt; has two reasons for thinking so; one is, his attention was called to the appearance of Mr. Radcliffe, and the matter of the shirt was gone into before the Grand Jury; witness was a member of that body; another is, if he had had on any other but a white shirt, he should have noticed it; he had seen Radcliffe before in his working dress usually, but when he saw him he had not; he was neatly dressed; more so than usual when witness had seen him; witness was in the Grand Jury room when Mr. Evans testified concerning the complaint against Ratcliff; he testified that Big Joe came to his house between six and seven; sometimes he answered about seven; don't recollect what time he had mentioned with reference to their tea; he testified that he left not far from seven o'clock; the question was asked him if Joe went out of the house and if so how long he was gone; his answer was that he was out and in several times but was not gone long; he said he recollected his being there from the fact that the boys were going to the boat; recollects Mrs. Thomson being sworn before the Grand Jury; has no distinct recollection of her being examined about the shirt found up stairs or about the shirt Radcliff wore.

Cross Examination.—Witness' attention was more particularly called to Mr. Evans testimony than to that of many others who have sworn before grand jury; we were driving somewhat in the direction of old Joe when Mr. Evans testified; a man can be neatly dressed with a striped shirt, but they are unusual garments for a well dressed man; witness cant say that he saw Judge Hubbell or any one of his boarders on that day; or cant tell how any of them were dressed; but if any of them had been arrested for murder he thinks he could have called to mind their dress at the time; thinks deft. had on the coat he wears now on that day; is very confident that he had on a white shirt, was not sworn as witness before grand jury.

Direct Examination Resumed.—Recollects that a Mrs. Smith from Walkers Point, was sworn in this case; some of the Jurors went to her house to see her.

[District Attorney here, asked the witness if he knew that Mrs. Smith was questioned in order to test her recollection of the color of clothes, &c. Defence objected. Objection overruled, and exception taken.] The witness answered that he did. [Witness was then asked by District Attorney if Mrs. Smith was questioned as to color of eyes &c.—this question was ruled out.)

Witness was present when Mrs. Smith's attention was brought to big Joe's dress; when big Joe came into the jury-room he had on a big rough over-coat.

(District Attorney here asked witness what Mrs Smith did and said when she saw him in the room, or did and said immediately upon big Joe's being removed from room; objected to and ruled on and the Count also intimated that the same question would be ruled out with reference to the prisoner.)

Mr. Webb, re-called for prosecution, testified: —Was one of the grand jurors at the last May term of this Court: Wm. Evans was sworn before the jury: recollects that he was questioned as to the time when Big Joe came to his house on the Sunday evening of murder; he stated the time to be about tea time; just after tea; don't recollect that he fixed the time of day; he said that Big Joe left his house from half-past 9 to 10; witness was clerk of the Grand Jury; kept the minutes of the testimony, part

CONSUMPTION OF THE LUNGS.

SYRACUSE—When Consumption commences its work upon the lungs in its usual form, the first symptom is a cough. As the disease advances the cough becomes much more frequent, and is attended with the expectoration of matter, which is sometimes colorless, but at others, assumes a yellowish or greenish hue, and will often be found mixed with streaks of blood. After the cough has continued for a time the patient will experience some difficulty in breathing accompanied, perhaps, with a pain in the chest, and frequently in one or both sides. The patient will be subject to a hectic fever, and alternate flushes of heat, frequent cold chills, and often with copious night sweats.

Those threatened with Consumption should bear in mind that "Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry" is the remedy, that has performed cures of Consumption that were thought almost miraculous—cures which have astonished the medical world, and brought the bloom of health to many a pallid cheek, and joy and gladness to many a despairing bosom

A CURE FOR BRONCHITIS.

THOSE who suffer from Bronchial affections, connected with a weakened and deranged state of the stomach, especially if accompanied with acidity, which is not unfrequently the cause of the disease, are referred to the following extract from the St. Louis Herald:

OXYGENATED BITTERS—Among our advertisements are some of the most approved patent medicines, one of which, the Oxygenated Bitters, we have tried. While under medical treatment by a physician of this city, for a distressing bronchitis of two years' standing, we were induced to try these Bitters, suspecting they were composed of the very thing which he had prescribed. The effect was immediate and permanent, and the cure soon completed. Wherever a bronchitis is connected with a deranged stomach, we have no doubt this medicine will give great relief. The patentee has the merit of rare honesty, which leads him to stop lauding the medicine, if not benefitted by two or three bottles

The American Cough Candy.

WE know of nothing in the annals of medicine which has achieved, within the same space of time, so just and general a reputation, as the above invaluable Cough Remedy. Testimonials of its wonderful efficacy in curing the most inveterate cold continue to flow in upon us. We are assured that where ever used it is superceding all other remedies of the kind. Many mothers relate, that Nightingale had she tested its virtue, probably never would have fallen to herself a Goldschmidt. She having taken that melancholy step, from the fear that her voice was gone forever; having experienced only temporary relief from the remedy last taken.

Why is the American Cough Candy like a Black Cloud? Because it goes ahead of Storms.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR 1852.
AS the season for emigration approaches, we beg to acquaint our friends and the public with our Arrangements for the year 1852, and would inform them, that with an increase of business—for which we are grateful—we are placed in possession of greater facilities for conducting the Emigration and Foreign Exchange Business than any other House in the World, and for which—in a great measure—we have to thank a discerning public for their continued patronage.
Since the commencement of last year a large number of magnificent ships have been added to the various popular lines for which we are the Agents, and several others are now in course of construction, all of which will be fitted up for passengers in the most superior manner, and commanded by men of long experience.
By the following List of Packets, and their dates of sailing—being six regular packets a month to and from Liverpool—four, to and from London—and two, to and from Glasgow—persons sending for their friends, or those proceeding to the "Old Country," will perceive it much to their advantage to make arrangements at our office; and as heretofore, no person at Liverpool will be under the personal superintendence of our Mr. W. TAPSCOTT—whose well known care and attention to passengers embarking by our line has for him his present high reputation among the emigrating public.

THE subscribers, thankful for past favors, beg leave to announce that they have recently added the Forstery Institute to their former occupation of Mill Stone manufacturing, and are now prepared to supply the public with articles in either branch, on terms that will defy competition.
In offering our Stoves to the community, we do so with the full assurance that we can supply better articles than can be purchased at any other place, being entirely new patterns, manufactured with care and from the very best materials. The following list of patterns we offer with the confidence that they will give satisfaction in every particular, viz:

THE ECONOMIST
DOUBLE OVEN COOKING STOVE,
(Which received the First Premium at the State Fair, lately held at Janesville,)
Possesses great advantages over every other stove, for plain flues and direct application of heat, being so arranged that one or both ovens can be used at pleasure. It will cook in half the time of any other stove now in use, and with half the fuel, not exceeding over four cords of wood in one year.
The TRIUMPH, single oven, takes in long wood, is an excellent stove—one that has been well tested, and given general satisfaction.
The PREMIUM is different in its construction from any other stove, in the arrangement of the fire back—acknowledged to be a great improvement.
The JUNO PARLOR is adapted to either wood or coal, being of the newest arrangement, and very much ornamental to the public, having all the convenience of the stove combined with the beauties of the open grate. It is beautifully ornamented, highly finished, and perfect in every respect—the entire front above and below the grate being opened or closed with three doors, and so arranged that when open they are completely out of sight. It is equally adapted to offices as well as parlors.
The RADIATOR is the best coal stove ever got up as a retainer of heat.
Persons purchasing their stoves of us, in the event of any of the plates getting broke, can at all times be supplied with extra ones, thus superseding the necessity of throwing away stoves, which many are daily compelled to do in buying Eastern ware.
Those who are in want of an articles in our line, will find it to their advantage to give us a call, before purchasing elsewhere, as we are confident that we can give satisfaction in all cases. Give references given, where our stoves can be seen in operation. Stoves delivered and set up in any part of the city, free of charge. All orders promptly attended to.
